Earn While you Learn!

Join us in delivering health for a better world

Would you like to become a CNA, with no out-of-pocket expenses AND get paid by Providence while you learn? Apply before November 15th

Discover your full potential as a Certified Nursing Assistant!

Certified Nursing Assistants (CNA's) provide direct patient care, working closely with Registered Nurses. They assist patients with tasks that patients cannot complete on their own such as walking, helping with personal care, eating, keeping track of medical supplies, and logging patient information. CNA's also take and record patient vital signs including blood pressure, pulse, respirations, and temperature.

About the Program
